Invitation to Archaeological Site Directors' – Syria

Heritage for Peace, within the framework of the international co-operation established under the auspices of UNESCO Observatory for the Safeguarding of Syria's Cultural Heritage, invites archaeologists who prior to 2011 were directing archaeological research projects in Syria, to participate in a brief survey.

The survey consists of 10 questions.

The aim of the survey is to make a constructive contribution towards rehabilitating Syria's cultural heritage sites by gathering information about the known status of archaeological sites.

Your personal information will be used for internal purposes only.

The information you provide about your site will be collated with data from other archaeological sites located in Syrian provinces and will be made available upon request to legitimate heritage agencies only.

The results of the survey will be shared in open discussions and initiatives for technical support involving recognised and trusted heritage bodies.

We would be grateful if you would kindly pass this information on to other colleagues who may be able to help contribute.
